"Nought, Outram Road, Alexandra Palace, London N22 7AB

12th February, 2015

Haringey Council
Planning Office
Level 6, River park House
225 High Road
Wood Green
London
N22 8HQ

Attention of Mr. Robbie McNaugher.

Your ref: HGY/2015/0311 11, Tottenham Lane, London N8 9DP.
(including 7 Tottenham Lane- historic Building)

Dear Sir,

I write with the recent above planning application and wish to state that I strongly object to the application to demolish existing buildings on the site of Tottenham Lane N8 next to what was The Railway Hotel and the original home to Colin Chapman's Lotus Cars Factory.

I also note that although the address of the application is stated as 11 Tottenham Lane it does include what is listed within the Planning Application.... as No. 7 Tottenham Lane, the site of Lotus cars in the 1950s.

In 1984, with the agreement of Haringey Council, Club Lotus erected a memorial plaque on the side of the foremost original Lotus office buildings which included the showroom.
I remember this clearly as I was there at that unveiling.
In 2004 Haringey Council added 7 Tottenham Lane to its Register of Local Listed Buildings.

The Planning application, (by a person in Yorkshire), who appears not to have any local knowledge, interest or connection; makes no reference to the listed building, its Historic value and connection to the original site of what was once this country's major innovating company nor indeed to the listed building status or existing plaque which is situated on the now Jewson's wall.

Out of curiosity are there plans to re-locate the plaque?
Is the Planning Department aware that this is a locally listed building?

I strongly object to this planning application on the above grounds.

Yours Faithfully,
M R MAKHLOUF