Submission: Objection
Comments: I would like to object to this application. There are enough bedsits along the High Road. The borough of Haringey should be attempting to regenerate the area and therefore should have a more forward thinking approach on planning applications. Another chicken shop has recently gone up in the High Road (on the border with Enfield) and I'm sure you're aware that these sort of restaurants tend to attract anti social behaviour. In the same way, we do not need more short term, transitory accommodation on the High Road which does not help to regenerate the area. This sort of accommodation is of course required but there are enough of them all along the High Road and often there is rubbish outside, people smoking joints, drinking outside, etc. I am not saying that this will definitely happen here (although enforcement along the High Road is not great) but I believe the borough should be looking to regenerate the area and not granting planning permission for more short term, transitory accommodation which we already have enough of.
