Small Copper Beech - Cut the entire tree to ground level

Large Willow - Cut the entire tree to ground level

There is no engineering report attached to this application so we have no way of assessing where the damage is, what the damage is and whether it has been monitored. It would appear from the site plans, that an extension has been built but we can find no record of any planning application. It may well be that the extension was built without regard for the trees.

We cannot agree that these attractive trees, particularly T2, should be felled without more robust evidence. However the trees are not visible to the general public

We would ask the Tree Officer to look into the situation with a view to saving the trees.
