Yew (T1) - reduce branches on neighbour's side by 2.5m, reduce branches on clients side by 1.5m and reduce top by 2.5m. The tree dominates the garden and blocks light to all adjacent gardens. The pruning will let more light into the gardens and allow for some underplanting of shrubs.

No Objection

We would like to see more detail on this tree, as it could have been planted on an old field boundary marked by trees. This can be seen clearly on both the 1869 and the 1892 25inch ordnance survey map. We would like to know exactly where it is in the garden and have an appraisal of its age and condition.
