Submission: Objection

Comments: This family over the years, has put forward many proposals for different buildings., all of which have been rejected.

The present application is now being put forward by the wife of the original proposer.

The same comments are applicable.. ie the water level is severely going to be affected. This is obviously, a very contentious area, particularly in the case of global warming and the flooding that the UK has been subjected too. This area has many underground tributaries and the gardens and the roads around this property as now subjected to flooding. Also the ongoing threat of continual building works affecting this part of Lanchester road is not something to be welcomed. The road and adjacent roads are subjected to continual building works and upheaval, to which there appears to be no respite. We already have three buildings being constructed in this road, and,, together with an altogether ill thought out of a building site on the former Cranwood House site of which the number of dwellings being constructed is detrimental to the surrounding roads and facilities.

I feel that this is an ill conceived application., for which, if agreed upon, will only open the gates for more extensive work than to be put into place. This couple (of which I am including both husband and wife, have, over the years, subjected the neighbours to unending applications of various dimensions. This , apart from upsetting the waterlevel, will not in any way, add to the area., and in fact, will prove to be detrimental.
