Subject: RE: Planning Consultation - London Borough of Haringey

Hi James,

I've had a look at the waste and recycling arrangements for this planning application.

The details provided for this development meet the requirements for refuse and recycling storage for a scheme of this size. Waste is segregated into food, recycling and refuse as advised and the number of containers is sufficient for the new housing units. Distances to the bin storage area for collection purposes and for residents to deposit their waste and recycling are within the British standards guidance and containers are accessible for servicing.

On this basis I have no further comments but if there is any other information you need concerning this please let me know.

Kind regards

Ann
