CONSIDERATIONS

Policy SP11 of the Strategic Plan and Policy DM1 of the Development Management DPD both aim to enhance the built environment through high quality design that respects local context and positive aspects of the area. Policy DM1 sets out that development should relate positively to its locality in terms of building height, form, scale, massing, building lines and architectural details and styles.

DPD Policy DM12 'Housing Design and Quality' states that extensions or alterations to residential buildings will be required to be of a high, site specific, and sensitive design quality, and respect and/or complement the form, setting, period, architectural characteristics and detailing of the original building, including external features such as chimneys, and porches. High quality matching or complementary materials should be used appropriately and sensitively in relation to the context.

The application proposes replacing the property's existing single-glazed timber front door with a new composite double glazed front door. The proposed composite door would be constructed from a combination of materials—typically a timber sub-frame, polyurethane foam core, and a GRP (Glass Reinforced Plastic) skin. Engineered for superior security, thermal efficiency (A-rated), and durability, they offer a low-maintenance, weather-resistant alternative to traditional timber or standard uPVC doors. It would have traditional appearance to compliment the character and appearance of the existing house.

The proposed replacement door is considered acceptable in terms of its design and appearance and to be in-keeping with character of the property and wider streetscene.

The replacement front door would also provide benefits in terms of improved thermal performance and sound insulation, which are relevant considerations, particularly in the context of Haringey's Climate Change Action Plan and the objective of achieving net zero carbon by 2041. The proposed replacement door will also improve the security of residents.

Given the minor nature of the proposal it would not have any material impact on neighbouring residential amenity.

All other relevant policies and considerations, including equalities, have been taken into account. Planning permission should be granted for the reasons set out above. The details of the decision are set out in the RECOMMENDATION.
