Recommend No Archaeological Requirement

Thank you for your consultation received on 03 April 2024.

The Greater London Archaeological Advisory Service (GLAAS) gives advice on archaeology and planning. Our advice follows the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) and the GLAAS Charter.

NPPF section 16 and the London Plan (2021 Policy HC1) make the conservation of archaeological interest a material planning consideration.

Having considered the proposals with reference to information held in the Greater London Historic Environment Record and/or made available in connection with this application, I conclude that the proposal is unlikely to have a significant effect on heritage assets of archaeological interest.

The planning application lies in an area of archaeological interest (Archaeological Priority Area) identified in the Local Plan: [76764] Bruce Castle and All Hallows Church

Bruce Castle is a building of archaeological interest because of its long and complicated history. However the asbestos removal does not relate to that interest. Future works referred to in the application might reveal hidden features or enable a better understanding of the building's development and use so I recommend consideration of buildings archaeology and consultation with GLAAS at an appropriate time.

This response relates solely to archaeological considerations. If necessary, Historic England's Development Advice Team should be consulted separately regarding statutory matters.

Yours sincerely
