

Context 3D CAD white model view from south on Bishopswood Road looking north: MSC project south elevation [centre] in context with RMC project proposal [right] , with all-weather pitches between

This is a general illustrative contextual perspective view from 3D CAD white model prepared by Hopkins Architects - for all details on RMC project proposals refer to separate application

|                                                                                                                                                     |                                                 |                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                        |                                                           |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|
| ed tooveyarchitects studio 401 royle building31 wenlock roadlondon n1 7sh07880 725763edtoovey@yahoo.co.uk | Revisions: PLANNING ISSUE | - Always take site measurements to verify dimensions- Refer to M&amp;E Engineers drawings for all services | Highgate School MSC 4-Phase Scheme Illustrative view - 3D CAD white model August 2023 | Drwg No. 1182 / V / 003 - Scale NTS |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|