Comments: I can understand removing the garages on Barrington and building on that area but not removing open space next to the blocks of flats which provides a lovely play area for children living there who have no access to gardens. This is an attractively designed area surrounded by green space giving a feeling of openness despite the ghastliness of the constant traffic of Park Road. I regularly walk past this area as I live close by and think of the careful planning that went on in the original design. What a shame to destroy that.
