Comments: 41 units is too many for such a major site. This is still an overdeveloped design for Muswell Hill which is a Conservation area. No aspect of this building is sympathetic to the architecture of the surrounding buildings. I object to the height and unattractive design of this proposal and especially the outside walkways. There is no aspect of this plan that is thought out to blend in, it is stark and ugly and not at all in keeping with Muswell Hill. We are told to reduce use of cars but reality is people still drive to have no facility for parking will just exasperate the existing parking problem.

Reduce the height and number of dwellings and improve the design.

The design is excessively large and imposing and even though social housing is needed I think the areas schools, surgeries and nurseries are already at capacity. St. James School in very close proximity has the effect on these children been taken into consideration. How many more people can local services support in Muswell Hill?
