Comments: I object to the felling of any tree in the middle of a climate emergency, in particular to the felling of a beautiful, healthy and old oak tree in the middle of a NATURE RESERVE area. Surely Haringey and Islington councils, having both declared a climate emergency, should protect these essential contributors to our ecosystem and review plans as necessary. It is shameful that such a proposal, with significant effects for the integrity of the parkland walk and the preservation of our already depleted biodiversity, is even considered in the current climate.

We, Guardians of the Stroud Green, support the delivery of high-quality access to the Parkland walk, however we do not in anyway support the current plans that include the destruction of an important and beautiful corner of the Parkland Walk, when alternative plans are possible.
