

Render Colour

The lower half, currently white, will remain white. The upper half, which is currently in terracotta brick, will be painted to a colour that closely matches the existing brickwork, as the picture shows above, in terracotta colour which is a balance between red and brown finish.